Republican Conventions

STATE OFFICERS—St. Joseph, July 27.
STATE JUDICIAL—Jefferson City, August 16.
NINTH CONGRESSIONAL—Montgomery City, Wednesday Aug. 3.
ELEVENTH JUDICIAL—Montgomery City, Wednesday, Aug. 3.

Most of the members of the Missouri delegation are expressing themselves rather forcibly regarding the propriety of Thomas J. Akins retaining the position he holds in the St. Louis sub-treasury since he has received the election for national committeeman. They think that a mistake has been made in the selection of Mr. Akins, unless he resigns his federal office. When asked about this matter, Mr. Akins had very little to say, but justified himself in holding two positions. He seems determined to hold them unless President Roosevelt desires his withdrawal.

Nearly eighty years ago, when the presidential struggle between Clay and Jackson was at its height, it is related, says the Oak Grove Banner, "that a band of immigrants from Kentucky and the then other western states, commenced to settle on the north side of the Missouri river and called their county Clay and the county seat Liberty. At the same time another lot of emigrants from Virginia and other Southern states pitched their tent on the south side of the Big Muddy and called their county Jackson and the capital Independence. And so it remains to this day. Clay stood for liberty and Jackson for independence. These two grand counties of Missouri have always been in the vanguard of progression and are the Gibraltar of Democracy."

"I may never be governor again," said David R. Francis, in an address to the recent good roads convention in St. Louis, "but if I were to be, I would surely put the convicts on the highways. It might cost the tax payers a little more to work the state prisoners on the roads than to keep them locked up, but the ultimate result would probably be more profitable to the state than would be the results from any other use they could be put to. The outdoor work would be good for the convict's health, and would therefore, according to the best authorities, exert a stronger influence upon them than indoor work does, and the products of their labor would not then come into competition with the products of free labor. Convicts are worked on the roads in several states, and it would be worth while at least to try working them on the highways of Missouri."

Not a few editors have been sending sarcastic shafts in the direction of the Women's Christian Temperance Union since the recent exposure of the many patent medicines which are found to contain alcohol. "It is characteristic of the hysterical irrelevancy of this order," declares one of them, "that it should be crusading against beer, containing only from 3 to 5 per cent of spirits, and saying nothing about the patent medicines which contain from 20 to 60 per cent of alcohol." Another says: "the uproar about the man who drinks three or four glasses of beer a day might well be directed toward the man (or the woman in a great majority of the cases) who takes 2 or 3 teaspoonfuls of a patent medicine which is fully one-half alcohol. Certainly the beer drinking is not jeopardizing his health and morals in the same degree as the medicine taker." [Note.—This proposition won't stand "figuring." Try it.]

A republican neighbor of P. C. Kent of Middletown, democratic nominee for county collector, says the TRIBUNE has been misinformed as to his age and abilities, taking an article in last week's issue as evidence. He says Mr. Kent is about sixty years of age, and has been notary public. The TRIBUNE has no desire to treat any person unjustly, and makes this correction with pleasure, though the office of notary public often consists of nothing but a notarial seal and a pen and ink.

Bear Creek.

Mrs. M. Len and daughter Mary visited her son Wm. Len last Sunday, who lives near Jonesburg.

Girard Spence, Mike Ryan and Will and Fred Hensick attended the dance at H. Helman's in Warren county last Friday night.

John Mason shipped a car load of hogs to St. Louis one day last week. He went to the city also, where he will visit friends and relatives.

Several from here attended the ice cream festival at Morsey last Saturday night.

If all reports are true we are to have another railroad through this vicinity ere long. The Santa Fe made several surveys through here about eight years ago and it is now reported that the same company will make another survey and go to grading yet this fall, but however there has been no survey made yet.

Remember, we are still serving those delicious sundaes, phosphates and ice cream soda.

J. K. BARLEY.

Hazel Dell.

Geo. Maupin has purchased a new buggy. He says if he just had a wife now he would be happy.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Heaton are visiting the World's Fair this week.

Among those who attended the party at Claude Duenkel's Saturday night from this place were: Misses Pearl Maupin, Bessie Belcher, Mollie Hendricks, Clara and Emma Faulhaber, and Messrs Roy Berger, Arthur and Octavus Baugh and Hugh Dillon. All reported a good time.

The new church at this place will not be dedicated Sunday, July 10, as has been reported.
